

FLOWERS GUILTY, IS JURY'S VERDICT

Former Rushville Colored Man Convicted on Manslaughter Charge For Slaying Wife

TRIAL IS HELD AT MUNCIE

Asserted by Attorneys That "There is More Whiskey in Rushville Than Rain in Muncie"

Cassius Flowers, colored, age 22, formerly of this city, who shot and killed Bertha Hodgins Flowers, his wife, also of this city, in a melee in Muncie August 31 of last year, was found guilty late Thursday of manslaughter by a jury in the Delaware circuit court.

The former local colored man went on trial Monday in the circuit court, after having been held in jail since the shooting. Sentence will be passed by Judge Dearth probably Saturday or Monday.

The case created much interest in Muncie. The state demanded the death penalty for Flowers. The slayer had previously been in frequent trouble while living in Rushville.

The cause of the affair was laid at the door of moonshine liquor, according to the evidence. Rushville was pointed out as being a city full of liquor, with no enforcement of the prohibition laws, and this fact was referred to in the arguments of the attorneys, who asserted that "there was more whiskey in Rushville than there is rain in Muncie."

A letter concerning the open violation of liquor laws in Rushville figured in the case, but the contents was not permitted to be entered as a part of the evidence. It was attempted to show that the liquor which caused the alleged shooting came from Rushville.

The case was given to the jury Thursday morning, but it was necessary to recess when seven members of the jury, including several women who composed the panel, became violently ill, due to poisoned food obtained at a restaurant. They recovered sufficiently to return, and the case was completed with the verdict being given late last night.

Two of the alleged three white men, Guy Reynolds and Fred Misner, of Richmond, who came with Mrs. Flowers from Richmond, Ind., in an automobile the day of the shooting and who were there when it occurred, testified.

The killing was in the home of Elmer Johnson, on A street, in Muncie. Flowers is said to have come to the house and found his wife there with the white men, and leaving, re-

MOLLIE CARTER ASKS DIVORCE AND SUPPORT

Also Demands Custody of Son and Restraining Order to Prevent Husband from Molesting Her

EDWARD CARTER DEFENDANT

A complaint for divorce was filed this morning in the circuit court by Mollie Carter against Edward Carter, the action alleging cruel treatment, failure to provide and neglect. They were married October 31, 1911, according to the suit, and separated January 19 of this year. He is charged with having failed to provide and on several occasions threatened to do her harm. She also seeks the custody of their son, support money and a restraining order to prevent him from molesting her.

The court granted a temporary restraining order and set the permanent hearing for support and restraining order for a hearing Saturday morning.

The jury was expected to be used today for the case of the State against Swain, an action appealed from Justice Steel's court to the circuit court, involving an assault and battery case. The parties reside in Milroy. The case was delayed on account of a misunderstanding in dates.

Several divorce cases and other matters of minor importance are set for trial Saturday before the court, and on Monday the case of the State against Will B. Brann is set for trial.

COUNTY DELEGATES

Woodmen Discuss Plans to Compete in National Drill Contest

The thirteen delegates and their alternates to the Rush county camp meeting to be held April 2, were named at the regular session of the Modern Woodmen lodge Thursday night, and plans discussed for the state meeting and national meeting to be held this summer.

Chief Forester C. E. Conger of Muncie has invited Barr Oak Camp, of this city, to enlist in a battalion that he is organizing to compete for prizes at the national meeting to be held this summer in Milwaukee, and his proposition was discussed by the members. It is expected that the local camp will decide to send the team, and compete for prizes with the battalion that the Muncie chief is organizing.

QUARTET IN AUTO MISHAP ARRAIGNED

Dale Smiley, Driver of Machine, Fined for Intoxication and Operating Car While Intoxicated

6 MONTHS TERM SUSPENDED

Carrie Peiffer, Ethel Wandell and Frank Perkins, all of Connersville Also Fined

The quartet of Connersville persons who figured in an automobile accident east of the city Wednesday evening, were all arraigned in police court, Thursday afternoon late, and entered pleas of guilty to the various charges, and were fined by Mayor Thomas.

Dale Smiley, who was driving the car that turned over with the occupants, was fined $5 and costs for public intoxication, and $50 and costs for driving a machine while intoxicated. He also was given a sentence of six months at the state farm, but this was suspended during good behavior.

His fines and costs amounted to $75 which was paid. The two women, who gave their names as Carrie Peiffer and Ethel Wandell, were fined $5 and costs each. They were made to pay and went back to jail, but an attempt was being made today by friends to secure their release.

The fourth person gave his name as Frank Perkins, and he also was fined $5 and costs, which he paid.

The trial in police court attracted considerable attention, because it involved the appearance of two women on charges of being drunk. The Wandell woman was unable to sit up in court and she complained of her injuries. Both were badly bruised and their faces were disfigured by cuts sustained in the accident.

The machine was going east on the road, when Smiley is said to have lost control as it was going down the hill by the old Rush county fair grounds. The machine turned over and the occupants had a narrow escape from serious injuries.

MAY WHEAT SLUMPS

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 6.—One of the wildest seasons in the history of the world of trade, May wheat slumped to $1.85 a bushel today closing at $1.86 5/8 cents, a net loss on the day's market of 7 3/8 cents. The opening price was $1.94. Heavy profit taking by "shorts" when the price hit $1.85 caused a rally.

Yes, It Must Be So

All misgivings about the balmy atmosphere and the warm sun being a true forerunner of spring were removed today—the first robin has come up from the south.

Mike Scanlan, 610 North Jackson street, reported catching in a glimpse of the pathfinder this morning. And the evidence is not unsupported, because two people saw it at the same time.

Mrs. Chester Cross was the other witness, according to Mr. Scanlan.

Seeing is believing—especially in the case of first robins. Several people have talked about hearing robins, but no one had seen one.

GIRLS' CLUB LEADERS SCHOOL HERE NEXT WEEK

At Least Eight Townships Where Leaders Have Been Selected Will Be Represented

MISS STEPHENSON IN CHARGE

A school for girls' club leaders will be held in the court house assembly room next Friday, with Miss Nova Stephenson of Purdue in charge and it is expected that at least eight townships, where local club leaders have been selected, will be represented.

The girls' club work will be started earlier this year with the idea of having the work completed so that outstanding club members may compete in the state show at the Indiana fair. The present plans to have the necessary enrollment before school closes this spring.

Helen Wissing of Walker township won the highest honors in the state canning club this year and this has spurred other townships and many girls to make renewed efforts to win a prize during the coming year.

Membership in the girls' clubs is restricted to girls between ten and eighteen years of age. Each member is permitted to select one or more of the following projects: Sewing, canning, baking or health.

During the county corn show committees from each of the twelve townships met with Miss Gaddis of Purdue and decided to promote a clothing project during the present year. The date for their first meeting has not been determined.

AMENDMENT DEAD ISSUE IN INDIANA

State Senate Votes Against Artificiality After Sharp Debate, 32 to 16

CALLED CHILD OF SOCIALISM

Senator Lindley Says Amendment is Antagonistic to Principles of Free Government

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 6.—The question of ratification of the child labor amendment to the federal constitution is a dead issue in the Indiana legislature.

After a sharp debate between opponents and supporters of ratification, the senate Thursday afternoon voted 32 to 16 for rejection of the amendment and indefinitely postponed the motion to ratify.

The galleries and all available spaces in the senate chamber were jammed with spectators when the amendment was called up on order of special business.

The amendment was reported out by the senate federal relations committee without recommendation.

Almost immediately Senator Lindley of Kingham moved for indefinite postponement and rejection. Senator Southworth moved to table Senator Lindley's motion and after a tilt over parliamentary rules, Senator Southworth withdrew his motion to leave the way open for debate.

Branding the amendment as "the legitimate child of socialism and communism," Senator Lindley declared it was antagonistic to the principles of free government on which the nation was founded.

He said it was time for the people to "cease yielding their rights" to a centralized control of authority.

In urging a favorable vote, Senator Southworth said children under 18 years of age would be permitted to work under the provisions of the amendment but to work in a way that would not be injurious to the future of the individual child.

The amendment is intended to throw safeguards around the future citizens of the nation," he said. "It contains nothing dangerous or radical."

Senator Batt, of Terre Haute, challenged Senator Southworth and asked him why he did not make a favorable report as chairman of the federal relations committee if he believed in the amendment.

Senator Southworth explained that a report without recommendation

TONIGHT JUST BEGINNING OF THE END; NOT THE END

Coming of the Crack of Doom Will Not be Sudden as Expected, Robert Reit Explains

CHRIST TO START FOR EARTH

By FRANK GETTY
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

East Patchogue, N. Y., Feb. 6.—Well, they have a nice day for it. Robert Reit and his disciples who confidently expect the end of the world—or at least the beginning of the end—sometime tonight had clear skies in which to observe the first portents.

Dressed in their Sunday best, the apostle with his trousers neatly creased and Franklin Reit in a crinkly silk dress, the little band of reformed Seventh Day Adventists moved somewhat stiffly about their last minute preparations for the coming of the crack of the doom.

Reit, a rotund little German-American, hoarse from exhortation and explanation of the plans of the faithful for riding to San Diego on cloud, explained that this end of the world business is not due to arrive suddenly at midnight, as had been rumored.

The prophet of doomsday said that tonight merely marks the beginning of the end of things.

With his followers, Reit will keep a dog watch on the eastern sky, to observe Christ starting for earth. The journey will take seven days, Reit explained, as the savior will stop at several planets to make arrangements for the return trip on which he will lead 144,000 of the "brides of the lamb."

TO HOLD CORN SHOW MEETING

All Persons Interested in Next Show Urged to Attend Wednesday

All persons interested in the success of the next Rush county corn show and those who took an active part in the recent show, are urged to attend a meeting which will be held in the court house assembly room next Wednesday afternoon at one o'clock.

An effort will be made to formulate plans at once for the next annual corn show, with the idea of improving on this year's show as much as possible.

The last show was regarded as the best county show in Indiana, but local boosters are hopeful of making the next one even a greater success.

SINK NEW SHAFT TO REACH CAVE PRISON

Rescuers Work Frantically But do Not Hope to Reach Floyd Collins Before Saturday Noon

FEAR DEATH BEFORE THEN

Shaft 60 Feet Deep Required But Depth of Only 30 Feet Will be Reached Before Night

(By United Press)

At the mouth of San Cave, Ky., Feb. 6.—Cheered by the belief that Floyd Collins is still living, rescuers hammered steadily into the new shaft they are sinking sixty feet to the point where Collins is entombed. Working frantically they can proceed no more than thirty feet before nightfall.

"We should break through to Collins by Saturday noon," Brigadier General Denhardt, officer in charge said. "But I doubt if he can live that long."

Confident now that they will reach the place where he is imprisoned, the workers' chief object now is to reach him before death comes.

Beginning late yesterday when Brig. General H. H. Denhardt took charge and 100 relief workers arrived, the crews had drilled 15 feet today toward the tomb where Collins has been a prisoner since a week ago today.

Radio tests early today gave workers assurance that Collins not only is alive, but conscious. After they had made the tests, Denhardt expressed renewed confidence that Collins would be taken out alive.

Shifts are made every hour and a half among the workmen to make quicker work possible.

Seventy five of the workmen here are employees of the Louisville and Nashville railroad which has promised additional men through the day. The railway company also sent tools and machinery.

Radio tests which determined Collins was alive were made by means of the electric light which still burns in Collins' living tomb.

Radio amplifiers were attached to this wire and the light was cut off. Listeners distinctly heard Collins fumble with the light bulb in an effort to get the light on again. When it was turned on again these sounds ceased. Testers asserted there was absolutely no other possible source of the sounds.

Rescuers today were further from saving Collins than when the prisoner was first found with his foot pinned beneath a boulder. The tunnel through which they reached him first has swollen shut with the frost.

The first man to enter this passageway at 4:30 a. m., yesterday, almost was trapped and after his exit the cave mouth was barricaded.

A shaft is now being drilled through crumbled sand storms and frozen gravel and engineers said it probably would not be necessary to blast. Use of explosive had been planned as a last resort if they struck hard rock. It would almost certainly mean collapse of the tunnel in which Collins lies and the victim's death.

RUSH COUNTY IS UNDER QUARANTINE

One of Nine Counties Prohibited From Shipping Poultry or Poultry Products

EUROPEAN FOWLPEST FOUND

Purdue Poultry Expert Said Here Last Week Disease Would be Harmful in Hatching Season

Quarantine in Effect

Dr. R. C. Julian, state veterinarian, notified H. D. VanMatre, county agent by long distance telephone at noon today that the poultry quarantine was in effect in Rush county and that no poultry was to be bought or sold until an inspection had been made.

Dr. Julian stated that men would be sent to Rush county within 48 hours to conduct the inspections and urged complete co-operation on the part of all concerned in order to stamp out the disease at the earliest possible moment.

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 6.—Nine counties in eastern Indiana were under quarantine today against the European fowlpest.

The quarantine, ordered last night by Dr. R. C. Julian, state veterinarian, prohibits the shipment of poultry or poultry products from the counties.

The order is effective in Fayette, Rush, Shelby, Hancock, Henry, Wayne, Randolph, Delaware and Madison counties.

Indiana's entire poultry industry, valued at nearly $60,000,000 a year, is menaced by the plague, according to Dr. G. I. Christie, of Purdue university.

The pest was first discovered in a shipment of poultry from Henry county to New York late last month. Its spread to other counties was rapid.

Whole flocks of chickens are killed off by the plague, which has all the devastating effect of the hoof and mouth disease among cattle.

H. D. Vanmatre, county agricultural agent, said today that he did not know of any instances in Rush county where poultry had suffered any ill effects from the European fowlpest.

APPROPRIATION PASSED IN LESS THAN HOUR'S TIME

Legislature Provides $50,000 to Fight European Fowlpest Affecting 9 Counties

AN OLD AGE PENSION BILL

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 6.—In less than an hour's time today, the legislature rushed through an emergency appropriation bill to provide $50,000 for fighting the European fowlpest in Indiana.

There was no opposition in the senate and only one negative vote in the house. The measure went to the governor immediately.

Representative Pittenger sponsored the bill in the house and Senator Moorhead backed it in the senate.

With the fund provided by the bill, the state veterinarian will immediately send a large force of field men into nine counties under quarantine in the eastern part of the state, to prevent the spread of the disease which if not checked will threaten the poultry industry throughout the state.

The old age pension bill providing a pension of $25 a month to old persons over 65 years of age, who have an income of less than $300 a year and property valued at less than $3,000, was introduced in the senate by Senator Nedjl of Whiting, republican floor leader.

The bill introduced by Senator Nedjl for the establishment of a county pension board to operate under the supervision of the state industrial board, would have charge of the administering of the act.

ELEVATED TO SUPREME COURT

HARLAN FISKE STONE

The nomination of Attorney General Stone to be a Supreme Court Justice was confirmed by the Senate late Thursday, 71 to 6.

Turns Attention to Warren

Washington, Feb. 6.—With the nomination of Attorney General Stone to be a supreme court justice confirmed 71 to 6, the senate today turned its attention to the nomination of Charles B. Warren of Michigan, to be Stone's successor.

The judiciary committee which has not yet voted on it, will consider the appointment early next week. It will have before it a report of a sub-committee, headed by Senator Borah, Idaho, neither endorsing nor disapproving the nomination, an unusual procedure. A fight comparable to that waged on Stone is considered possible.

Several senators have been reviewing testimony taken ten years ago in a sugar lobby investigation, in which Warren figured and it is indicated the nomination may have rough going.

RUSHVILLE TEACHERS

ARE ALL ENROLLED

Report Shows One Hundred Percent From Here in the National Education Association

OFFICERS SEND THEIR THANKS

(Special to the Daily Republican)

Washington, Feb. 6.—One hundred percent of the teachers of the schools of Rushville, Indiana, are enrolled in the National Education Association, according to a report received today by Mr. J. W. Crabtree, secretary of the association, from H. B. Allman, superintendent of schools. In a letter to Mr. Allman, Mr. Crabtree says: "The officers of the association congratulate you and your fellow workers on this one hundred percent record of membership in the National Education Association. It is a fine showing and means that you appreciate the importance of an alert, well-trained, and responsible profession. You will soon receive the special certificates granted by the executive committee to schools which enroll all their teachers."

The National Education Association was organized in 1857. Through its efforts the United States Bureau of Education was established. It has led in the movement for well-trained, adequately paid, properly certified teachers for all schools. Among the organizations which have endorsed its platform of service are: The General Federation of Women's Clubs, the League of Women Voters, and the American Federation of Labor. Since the war the Association has been actively working for a Federal Department of Education with a Secretary in the President's cabinet.

ADDRESSES KIWANIANS

God Will Guide Thee:—Be ye not as the horse, or as the mule, which have no understanding: whose mouth must be held in with bit and bridle. I will instruct thee and teach thee in the way which thou shalt go. Psalm 32:9-8.

Prayer:—O Spirit of the living God, we need thy guidance, for the way is strange to us. Keep us from self will. Make us teachable and then show us the way to walk.

A Social Fruit

Behold the lowly apple—it has put on airs and assumed a new and higher rung on the social ladder.

We have the word of the American Promotional Society that an apple is a social fruit.

"It draws human beings together in fellowship," says a bulletin from the society.

For these many years we have understood that an apple a day keeps the doctor away, but we never suspected this luscious fruit had the reverse qualities.

Granted what is claimed for the apple is true—that it will keep the children at home and in at night, and husbands as well, few of us have ever quite pictured the apple as a social fruit.

Nothing tastes so good as a good apple, but the eaters never were able to find a suitable French term under which to disguise it, so it has never been permitted to grace the menus where price and not what you get to eat counts.

Hence, the apple has always been regarded as a social outcast.

The average person will be glad to learn that someone has championed the cause of the lowly apple, which has been hiding its light under a bushel, so to speak, for so many centuries.

The apple needs a champion: it has been taken too much for granted because it is so common.

There are few states that do not grow apples because apple trees will thrive in all temperate regions.

But folks are folks the world around and they never get over that human trait which causes them to believe the grass is always greener on the neighbor's lawn.

They take imported fruit when they have something just as good at their back door.

Social fruit, or unsocial—have it any way you like it—the apple is a great boon to humanity and will bear better acquaintance.

College Opportunities

Over 7 percent of the freshmen reporting in one State several years ago made their choice of college because of the opportunity afforded for self-support during the course. College authorities have long sought ways and means to assist deserving young men and women to obtain an education. A plan proposed by the State Normal College at Bowling Green, Ohio, has recently been reported to the Bureau of Education. Tentative arrangements subject to legislative approval provide part-time employment for a limited number of farm boys enrolling in the agriculture science course for rural high school.

The students alternate by periods of three weeks between the college and assigned farms. This procedure continues for four years, ten months per year. Two students are assigned for one year to the cooperating farmer so that one student is at the college all the time and one with the farmer all the time. The farmer pays a reasonable wage for this help. At the close of each year the students are assigned to farmers in other localities to give them the business methods and viewpoints of other farmers and communities.

The class work is correlated with the farm activities for each three weeks period. The farm thus serves as a practical laboratory for the course and at the same time aids the student to meet his college expenses. Five years are required to complete the course with a B. S. degree. The fifth year is spent in fulltime residence at the college doing practice teaching and college work.

Hunt's Washington Letter

BY HARRY B. HUNT

WASHINGTON—Matrons and dowagers of the capital social set are getting cross-eyed trying to look both north and south at the same time for the arrival of the stork with burdens for two of Washington's social favorites.

While Alice Longworth is awaiting the visitor at Chicago, Mrs. Cornelia Vanderbilt Cecil is awaiting a like call at the baronial Vanderbilt estate near Asheville, N. C.

Miss Vanderbilt's marriage to Hon. John F. A. Cecil, former first secretary of the British embassy, was the capital's gala nuptial event of a year ago.

With the polo season closed and interest in bridge and mah jong waning, many of the sportively inclined are placing wagers on which will arrive first, the Longworth heir or the Cecil heir.

WITH the banning by President Coolidge of an official inaugural ball, the days of glory for the old Pension Office building probably have gone forever.

For it was in the great inner court of this building that these festivities were staged. No other public building in Washington offered so spacious or imposing a setting.

The roof over this vast inner court is supported by a double rank of towering pillars, each 85 feet high and 20 feet in circumference.

ence. They appear to be of Italian marble, beautifully colored, handsomely veined. But—

These pillars are but early examples of what, during the war, came to be known as "camouflage." They aren't marble at all; only brick and plaster! Each pillar contains 55,000 bricks, all nicely plastered over and painted to deceive.

GRAY-HAIRED guards who have spent countless hours studying the lining of this imitation marble have found in it many freakish forms.

On one pillar can be made out a fairly accurate picture of George Washington.

On another the lines of the "marble" take on the form of an Indian warrior, bow drawn and arrow aimed.

On a third there seems to be a little red school house, with the Stars and Stripes floating from its flagpole. And a fourth, the G. A. R. attendants will point out to you, is a really marvelous imitation of a Grand Army badge, with the outstretched wings of the eagle so minutely drawn as to seem the result of careful work, not of accident.

But this most imposing interior in Washington is today less well known and less frequently visited than any other in the capital. For years it was kept in the public eye by the quadrennial inaugural ball. But the last official ball was 16 years ago.

Only in its memories does it have the power to thrill and stimulate.

ECHOES FROM THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 6—Senator Holmes of Gary holds the record in the upper house for introduction of bills.

He has sponsored sixteen measures and is the co-author of a seventeenth.

Senator English, Indianapolis, is a close second with thirteen bills to his credit.

Senators Cravens, Democratic floor leader, Branaman, Davis, Erni, Harmon, Latz, Martin, Merry, Nejd and Saunders have not introduced a bill.

Senator Saunders, however, is co-author with Senator Penrod on one measure and Senator Chambers sponsored one bill jointly with Senator Inman.

Hoosier "salts" would be given a chance to try their "sea elgs" under a bill now before the house.

The bill calls for the establishment of an Indiana naval militia with a recruited strength of not more than 1,000 men.

The governor would be authorized to accept a vessel from the federal government for the militia to take an annual two-weeks cruise.

The measure was introduced jointly by Representatives Marden, Carlisle, Korff, Cooper, Harris, Plass and Kissinger.

The limit of bonded indebtedness on all free gravel roads in each county in the state would be increased from two to four percent of the assessed valuation in the county under a bill introduced in the senate by Senator O'Rourke, of Fort Wayne, today.

The bill would amend the act passed by the 1923 legislature which fixed the two-cent limit.

The bill is expected to draw fire if it reaches the floor of the senate from advocates of economy in the local government who declare that taxes are too high and such a bill would only permit the increase.

Another "Blue Sunday" bill is pending in the state legislature today.

It is being considered by the senate morals committee to which it was referred following its introduction by Senator Leonard, of Warsaw.

The bill resurrects the ancient Indiana "blue law" which has never been enforced and would attach stricter penalties for its violation.

The bill provides a $10 to $25 fine for first violation, and $25 to $100 fine for second violation of its provisions. It differs from the old law in that it contains a nuisance clause with a $100 to $1000 fine for violation.

Among the offenses which the law seeks to prohibit are rioting, quarrelling, common labor, or the following or a person's avocation, works of charity accepted.

Indianapolis is dirtier than Gary, according to Senator Hodges, of the Calumet industrial city.

"I thought Gary was very dirty and smoky when the big steel mills are running full blast," he said. "But Indianapolis is a lot worse."

"And from what I have seen about the hotels, I think it is just as bad morally."

"I could not work at all and had to take to my bed with a high fever due to intestinal indigestion, gases in my stomach and pain in my right side. I had spent my last cent for doctors and medicine, which gave me no relief. I was in despair. A lodge brother gave me a bottle of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, and the first dose relieved me. Thanks to this medicine I am now in the best of health." It is a simple harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. GAMES TONIGHT

Rushville at Spiceland.
Anderson at Logansport.
Cathedral at Hagerstown.
Elwood at Tipton.
Frankfort at Kokomo.
Franklin at Columbus.
Greencastle at Lafayette.
Hartford City at Muncie.
Lebanon at Connersville.
Mitchell at Seymour.
Newcastle at Knightstown.
Richmond at Middletown.
Shelbyville at Martinsville.
Washington at Vincennes.

COUNTY GAMES TONIGHT

In the county tonight, New Salem plays at Webb; Manilla at Carthage and Raleigh plays Moscow at Blue Ridge. Saturday night Carthage tackles Arlington at Arlington.

Spiceland may be easy, but you never can tell. The "Yellow Jackets" always put up a strong fight on their own floor, and may cause some trouble for the Lions—but under ordinary circumstances the locals should pull through easily.

May Be The Last Game For Rushville

According to newspaper dispatches, a certain religious sect has received advance word through visions, that the world is to come to an end sometime before midnight today. So our time is getting plenty short. There is some consolation in the vision, and that is that we all have a chance of being one of the 144,000 that are to be saved.

WONDER WHERE HE GETS THIS "WE" STUFF

Have you stopped to figure out that it less than seven weeks until we'll be celebrating the 1925 state championships?—What the Stars Say, Frankfort.

The above statement is about as accurate as his next one, which says, "And less than five weeks until we'll be talking about the 52 sectional champions?" Bobbie ought to read up on these sectionals, as basketball in Indiana isn't what it used to be, and there are 64 sectionals.

Anyway "we" haven't given up that trip to Niagara Falls, which is being given by a man up in Frankfort.

A FINANCIAL STATEMENT

The teams in the district tourney over at Connersville will get about $500 apiece, according to the financial statement sent out today. The following from Side Lights of Connersville, is a detailed account:

THAT DISTRICT TOURNEY

Here's the black and white on that district tourney, supplementing an earlier report on the approximate receipts. The following signed by Harry D. Miller, treasurer and B. E. Myers principal, will be of interest:

Referees	$110.00
Cup	21.42
Hotels and meals	145.60
Services	86.40
Transportation	134.00
Printing, advertising, tele. phones	42.65
Basket ball	11.75
Center school	199.00
Balance, divided among 7 schools	947.28
Total	1,598.50

They surely got cheated on that one. The one that was given in the Rush county tourney, here last week, only cost $10.96, and they paid $21.42 for the cup at Connersville. Probably holds that extra ounce which Mirey wanted.

It Would Be Sweet!

Tonight is the night of all nights in southwestern Indiana. Washington travels on a special train to Vincennes, Washington, like a great many other Indiana teams, has a record of 15 straight games. Will Alice be sweet sixteen tonight?

We Hope You Are Right

Speaking of Rushville—the Lions play at Spiceland Friday night. According to dope, it'll be the eighteenth defeat for the Spiceland crew. They've won only one game this season. —Side Lights, Cville.

So far, Free Throws in the Press at Connersville hasn't made his prediction on the game tonight, and we're mighty glad of it. Every time he has picked Rushville to win a game, they have always turned around and done the opposite. It would be just like him to pick Rushville to beat Connersville, and could you imagine that?

Pass and Shoot on the Greencastle Banner is always reading Hittin' 'em, and he goes just on after the last item, reading medicine ads and all of the little "fillers." Maybe he don't know that advertisers fight for space on this page. Just last week Casparets wrote in and wanted the make-up man to put their ad on Mr. Hittin' 'em's page, but we couldn't accommodate 'em that week, and pushed it over to the society page.

Reading right on at the end of Pass and Shoot's column today, comes the headline, "Clinton Falls," and there wasn't a word about anybody falling. That's setting money under false pretense.

Greencastle still has the brick. They play at Lafayette tonight, and Hittin' 'em was just wondering if anyone thought to take the brick along.

Let's see, someone said it would be a terrible thing for that brick if Passaic ever got their hands on it.

LOOKIN' TO FEB. 13

By the way don't want to rush things but it won't be long before we can begin to start getting the ole pep for that "battle of the Century" here February 13. Our guess is that the gym will be packed to the guards who plays? Why then roarin' Lions of Rushville and we're gonna tame 'em or know the reason why.—Side Lights, Cville.

Didja catch that last—"gonna tame 'em or know the reason why." They will have about as much luck as they did before.

"BOUGHT TO" IS RIGHT

The Rushville Roarin' Lions ought to get back in the winning column, this Friday evening when they take on the Spiceland "Yellowjackets" on Henry county lumber. The Lions have been losing quite a number while the Spicelanders got back on the winning side last week. We're pickin' the Lions by twenty points. —Newcastle Courier

And Newcastle meets their old time rivals down at Knightstown tonight. These games usually are hot ones and both teams will know they have been some place when the smoke is cleared away.

This little sign worked good before, and we will see how it looks now. It is next on the program:

Cut World Series' Ticket Price!

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Feb. 6.—Baseball officials have some of the strangest ways of solving their problems. They seem to figure that a puff of breath will extinguish a conflagration just because it will put out a match.

The wierdest idea ever conceived by supposedly big men of business was originated to remove the danger that has been brought to the game by million-dollar world's series.

The magnates have decided to reduce the money shares of the pennant-winning teams in the receipts of the world's series games by declaring the two teams that finish in fourth position in for a share of the spoils.

They also have decided to raise the pay of the four umpires who officiate in the series to $2,500 each.

The danger of having the players tampered with or tempted by bribes, they figure, is removed by reducing the reward of the players without taking a penny out of their own pockets.

Ball players in general have no high regard for their employers as philanthropists or big-hearted brothers. If some of the White Sox players who went astray in 1919 had not felt that they were under no obligations to their boss, there might not have been a big scandal.

It was brought out in the testimony that some of the star Chicago players were the lowest paid in the league and when the club owners were raking in all the coin, they had no moral compunctions against throwing games to fatten their own rolls.

Then there was the case of Rube Marquard who was arrested in Cleveland during the world's series of 1920 on the complaint of Charles Ebbets that he was trying to sell some of the tickets that he had been allowed to purchase. If the fans are curious to find out how so many of the best tickets for world's series games reach the hands of speculators it is quite certain that the players have their own doubts.

Since that scandal in 1919, it has been agreed that commercialization of the world's series was baseball's greatest danger. Why?

Well, when the receipts of the series run into the million dollar class, the share of the individual players on the winning teams runs as high as from $8,000 to $7,000 each. Naturally every player wants to get in on that bonus, which in itself represents more than a fair annual salary for a well paid man. When several teams get into a tight race there is the temptation to buy games. It was the general opinion that Jimmy O'Connell was sent with a $500 bribe to a Philadelphia player to help the Giants win the decisive game of the pennant race.

To prevent a repetition of the same thing in the future, the baseball officials decided to remove the temptation by reducing the share of the players taking part in the series. They figured probably that players in the future would not try to buy a pennant if they were to get only $2,500 each for taking part in the series.

If the danger to the future of the games depends upon the removal of commercialism from the world's series, there is only one way to do it.

SOUR STOMACH RELIEVED BY DI-JO TABLETS

If you're suffering from gas on the stomach, bloating, sour stomach, heartburn, or any of the inconveniences of indigestion, take Di-Jo.

It's not only pleasant to take but it aids the stomach in performing its duties. Any disturbance of the stomach throws the whole system out of order. If your food is not digesting properly it cannot furnish sufficient nourishment to the body.

The stomach is the furnace which consumes the fuel which enters your body. Sometimes the fuel is the wrong kind and sometimes there is too much of it. Di-Jo is the proper corrective for such a condition. It gives the gastric juices which are supposed to help digest your food the strength needed to digest food for a stomach temporarily weakened or for an overloaded stomach.

Di-Jo isn't dope or anything that can possibly hurt you. It's a natural remedy to aid digestion and it should be in every household. Your druggist has it.

If you are troubled with constipation take DI-VAC. It is sold by all druggists and is recommended as the proper laxative to be used in connection with Di-Jo, if any is needed. —Advertisement

A most pleasant social hour was enjoyed by the guests after the program, during which the hostess served refreshments.

The Ladies Aid and Literary Club members were graciously entertained Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Jesse Rees near Gings. The majority of the members were present and they responded to the roll call with sayings from Lincoln. A paper on "The Life of Lincoln" was read by Mrs. Donald Foster and "The Perfect Tribute" was given by Mrs. Horace Kehl. One guest, Mrs. O. H. Rees, was present for the meeting. A delicious two course luncheon was served as the concluding feature of the meeting. Miss Merian Fry will be hostess to the club, Friday afternoon, February 19.

Seventy-five members and guests attended the meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Main Street Christian church, held Thursday afternoon in the parlors of the church. E. A. Frazee conducted the Bible study and Mrs. Martha Grindle gave a splendid talk on "China," using the blackboard for explanations. Mrs. L. C. Overdorf reviewed two books on China. A very interesting letter was read at the meeting from Mrs. Cyrus Yocum, who is with her husband in Bolangi, Africa. [The Rev. and Mrs. Yocum were formerly of this city, the former being pastor of the church here, and he is now making a survey of the African mission field. The letter was sent to Mrs. Warder Wyatt. Little Miss Eleanor Stiers favored the audience with two piano solos. The February section, captioned by Mrs. H. V. Logan, served light refreshments following the program.]

turned a few minutes later with a shot gun, fired two shots, one of which killed his wife. The gun, an "old timer" was introduced by the state as evidence.
"We were looking for whisky," Fred Misener, testified upon taking the stand. He verified the fact of the three white men coming to Muncie from Richmond on the fatal Sunday in company with Mrs. Flowers and Theodore McGahey, colored, the latter being the driver of the car. The men slept most of the way, according to Misener, but came to Muncie after Mrs. Flowers had told them she thought they might get some liquor there.

A touch of humor was added to the case and brought a ripple of laughter from the crowded court room when Misener told of his actions when the first shot was fired.
"I didn't have time to count no shots," he told Prosecutor Van L. Ogle upon being questioned as to the number of shots.
"I jumped up when the first shot was fired and fairly leaped into an adjoining bed room. The only thing I could see to stop bullets was a bed mattress and I made a dive under it. A man thinks pretty quick under such circumstances," Misener said.
Misener said he returned to the living room to find Gay Reynolds when he saw him peeping out from behind a chair. He called to him and when the second shot was fired they both made a dive for under the bed.

Poisoning of Jurors Probed
Muncie, Ind., Feb. 6—An investigation of the restaurant where the members of the jury hearing the murder charge against Cassius Flowers, negro, had lunch Thursday after which seven jurors became violently ill, was under way today. At the same time it was learned that the city water supply has been found to contain certain impurities by a chemical test made at the Indiana state normal school here and that samples of the water are now in the hands of the state chemist. In the meantime the city health officer, has advised that all water be boiled.

Spring Coat

This spring coat follows the prevalent mode of much fur at the collar. Instead of fur about the throat there is a wide scarf of the material which crosses in front with the ends falling over the shoulder. The tucks at the back give an exceptionally good shoulder line and mark it as one of the most advanced models.

Leroy Jones, poultry expert from Purdue, said at the Rush county poultry school here last week, that the quarantine scare of a few weeks ago in the east would do uncalculable harm to the poultry business.
And not realizing that a quarantine was probable in this part of the state, he asserted that if the disease should reappear, it would be much more harmful now because of coming right at the hatching season.

According to the officers, Manning attempted to force his way into the Sleeth home and drew the gun on Sleeth but Mrs. Sleeth intervened and persuaded Manning to hand the weapon over. Sleeth talked the police who later arrested him at his home.
According to the officers, Sleeth is employed at nights, but remained at home last night when his wife told him that Manning was going to call.

CHILD BADLY SCALDED MOTHER QUICKLY STOPS PAIN

A daughter of Mrs. G. Reynolds of Saugerties, N. Y., had the misfortune of being badly scalded. Fortunately the mother had CORONA Wool Fat in the house and applied it with the following satisfactory results: "My daughter badly scalded her arm with hot coffee. We applied Corona and healed it quickly." There is nothing that can compare with Corona Ointment for quickly soothing pain and healing scalds, burns, bruises, cuts and wounds of all kinds. Children like it because it is so soothing—relieves pain so quickly. Its remarkable healing properties have earned for it the name of "The World's Greatest Healing Ointment." As a household remedy it is indeed "a friend in need." At all druggists, etc. Corona Mfg. Co., Kenton, Ohio.

"Thy Name Is Woman." Princess.
With a highly-charged story of passionate love, a background of real scenic beauty, played by a host of stars and made by one of the industry's cleverest directors, "Thy Name Is Woman," the new Metro picture which comes to the Princess theatre for two days, beginning today promises to be one of the most thrilling productions of the year.

The cast includes such favorites as Ramon Novarro, Barbara La Marr, Edith Roberts, William V. Wong, Wallace MacDonald, Robert Edison and Claire McDowell.

The story is centered around the beautiful young wife of an old smuggler in the Spanish Pyrenees. A lashing young soldier is sent to make love to her and thus find the key that will lead to the capture of the crafty bandit.

The call of youth prevails and the officer and the wife actually fall in love, causing jealousy in the hearts of three other characters. The development from this premise forms an absorbing tale of revenge, thrilling action, and final solution, that is said to keep spectators pop-eyed with excitement.

ANY WOMAN, any man, can now have a well-developed face and form. The whole, simple secret of a well-developed form is in the number of blood-cells in your body. You can now forget all the theoretical talk about diet, exercise, fad treatments, food-fats and fat-foods. Nothing is of any use, after all, except blood-cells!

Thin, run-down men and women, with bony necks, sunken cheeks, bony shoulders—all these are suffering from one thing—too few blood-cells. Science has proved that S.S.S. helps to make the rich red blood-cells which you need. Your blood is starving for these new blood-cells! Give your blood the blood-cells it needs—take S.S.S. the great scientific blood-cell maker. S.S.S. has done marvels, too, in making beautiful complexions, clearing the skin, making lips rosy red, the cheeks full and plump—because it rid the blood of impurities which cause pimples, blackheads, acne, blotches, eczema, freckles, rash and rheumatism, too. As the medicinal ingredients of S.S.S. are purely vegetable, it may be taken with perfect safety. This is why S.S.S., since 1826, has meant to thousands of underweight men and women a plus in their strength. Start taking S.S.S. today and your great problem, that of your personal appearance, can be solved.

FLOWERS GUILTY, IS JURY'S VERDICT

Former Rushville Colored Man Convicted on Manslaughter Charge For Slaying Wife

TRIAL IS HELD AT MUNCIE

Asserted by Attorneys That "There is More Whiskey in Rushville Than Rain in Muncie"

Cassius Flowers, colored, age 22, formerly of this city, who shot and killed Bertha Hodgson Flowers, his wife, also of this city, in a melee in Muncie August 31 of last year, was found guilty late Thursday of manslaughter by a jury in the Delaware circuit court.

The former local colored man went on trial Monday in the circuit court, after having been held in jail since the shooting. Sentence will be passed by Judge Dearth probably Saturday or Monday.

The case created much interest in Muncie. The state demanded the death penalty for Flowers. The slayer had previously been in frequent trouble while living in Rushville.

The cause of the affair was laid at the door of moonshine liquor, according to the evidence. Rushville was pointed out as being a city full of liquor, with no enforcement of the prohibition laws, and this fact was referred to in the arguments of the attorneys, who asserted that "there was more whiskey in Rushville as there is rain in Muncie."

A letter concerning the open violation of liquor laws in Rushville figured in the case, but the contents was not permitted to be entered as a part of the evidence. It was attempted to show that the liquor which caused the alleged shooting came from Rushville.

The case was given to the jury Thursday morning, but it was necessary to recess when 7 members of the jury, including several women who composed the panel, became violently ill due to poisoned food obtained at a restaurant. They recovered sufficiently to return, and the case was completed with the verdict being given late last night.

Two of the alleged three white men, Gay Reynolds and Fred Misner, of Richmond, who came with Mrs. Flowers from Richmond, Ind., in an automobile the day of the shooting and who were there when it occurred, testified.

The killing was in the home of Elmer Johnson, on A street, in Muncie. Flowers is said to have come to the house and found his wife there with the white men, and leaving, re-

MOLLIE CARTER ASKS DIVORCE AND SUPPORT

Also Demands Custody of Son and Restraining Order to Prevent Husband from Molesting Her

EDWARD CARTER DEFENDANT

A complaint for divorce was filed this morning in the circuit court by Mollie Carter against Edward Carter, the action alleging cruel treatment, failure to provide and neglect. They were married October 31, 1911, according to the suit, and separated January 19 of this year. He is charged with having failed to provide and on several occasions threatened to do her harm. She also seeks the custody of their son, support money and a restraining order to prevent him from molesting her.

The court granted a temporary restraining order and set the permanent hearing for support and restraining order for a hearing Saturday morning.

The jury was expected to be used today for the case of the State against Swain, an action appealed from Justice Sleeth's court to the circuit court, involving an assault and battery case. The parties reside in Milroy. The case was delayed on account of a misunderstanding in dates.

Several divorce cases and other matters of minor importance are set for trial Saturday before the court, and on Monday the case of the State against Will B. Brann is set for trial.

Woodmen Discuss Plans to Compete in National Drill Contest

The thirteen delegates and their alternates to the Rush county camp meeting to be held April 2, were named at the regular session of the Modern Woodmen lodge Thursday night, and plans discussed for the state meeting and national meeting to be held this summer.

Chief Forester C. E. Conger of Muncie has invited Burr Oak Camp, of this city, to enlist in a battalion that he is organizing to compete for prizes at the national meeting to be held this summer in Milwaukee, and his proposition was discussed by the members. It is expected that the local camp will decide to send the team, and compete for prizes with the battalion that the Muncie chief is organizing.

QUARTET IN AUTO MISHAP ARRAIGNED

Dale Smiley, Driver of Machine, Fined for Intoxication and Operating Car While Intoxicated

6 MONTHS TERM SUSPENDED

Carrie Peiffer, Ethel Wandell and Frank Perkins, all of Connersville Also Fined

The quartet of Connersville persons who figured in an automobile accident east of the city Wednesday evening, were all arraigned in police court Thursday afternoon late, and entered pleas of guilty to the various charges, and were fined by Mayor Thomas.

Dale Smiley, who was driving the car that turned over with the occupants, was fined $5 and costs for public intoxication, and $50 and costs for driving a machine while intoxicated. He also was given a sentence of six months at the state farm, but this was suspended during good behavior.

His fines and costs amounted to $75 which was paid. The two women, who gave their names as Carrie Peiffer and Ethel Wandell, were fined $5 and costs each. They were unable to pay and went back to jail, but an attempt was being made today by friends to secure their release.

The fourth person gave his name as Frank Perkins, and he also was fined $5 and costs, which he paid.

The trial in police court attracted considerable attention, because it involved the appearance of two women on charges of being drunk. The Wandell woman was unable to sit up in court and she complained of her injuries. Both were badly bruised and their faces were disfigured by cuts sustained in the accident.

The machine was going east on the road, when Smiley is said to have lost control as it was going down the hill by the old Rush county fair grounds. The machine turned over and the occupants had a narrow escape from serious injuries.

MAY WHEAT SLUMPS

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 6.—One of the wildest seasons in the history of the board of trade, May wheat slumped to $1.55 a bushel today closing at $1.86 5-8 cents, a net loss on the day's market of 7 3-8 cents. The opening price was $1.94. Heavy profit taking by "shorts" when the price hit $1.85 caused a rally.

Yes, It Must Be So

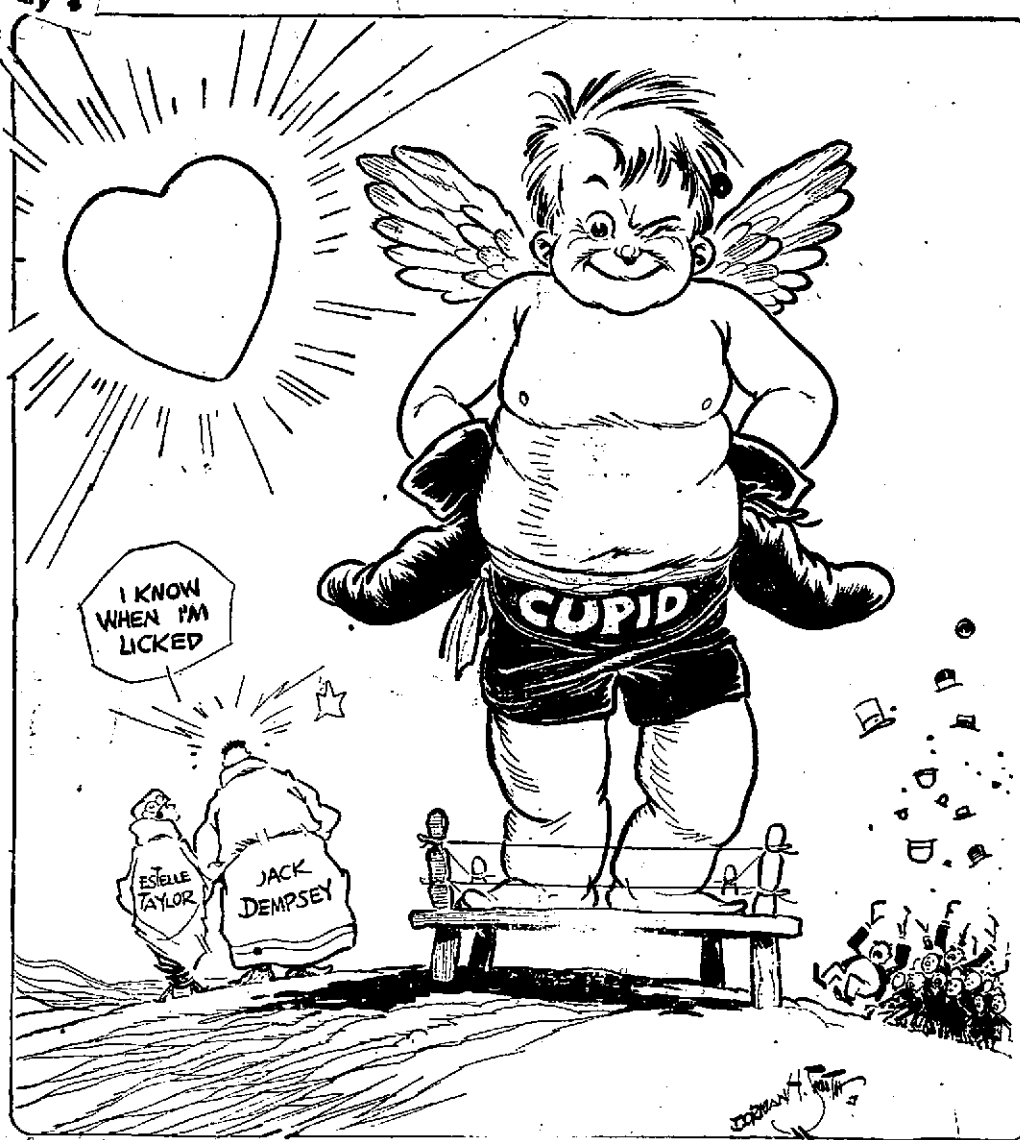

All misgivings about the balmy atmosphere and the warm sun being a true forerunner of spring were removed today—the first robin has come up from the south.

Mike Scanlan, 610 North Jackson street, reported catching in a glimpse of the pathfinder this morning. And the evidence is not unsupported, because two people saw it at the same time.

Mrs. Chester Cross was the other witness, according to Mr. Scanlan.

Seeing is believing—especially in the case of first robins. Several people have talked about hearing robins, but no one had seen one.

GIRLS' CLUB LEADERS SCHOOL HERE NEXT WEEK

At Least Eight Townships Where Leaders Have Been Selected Will Be Represented

MISS STEPHENSON IN CHARGE

A school for girls' club leaders will be held in the court house assembly room next Friday, with Miss Nova Stephenson of Purdue in charge and it is expected that at least eight townships, where local club leaders have been selected, will be represented.

The girls' club work will be started earlier this year with the idea of having the work completed so that outstanding club members may compete in the state show at the Indiana fair. The present plans to have the necessary enrollment before school closes this spring.

Helen Wissing of Walker township won the highest honors in the state canning club this year and this has spurred other townships and many girls to make renewed efforts to win a prize during the coming year.

Membership in the girls' clubs is restricted to girls between ten and eighteen years of age. Each member is permitted to select one or more of the following projects: Sewing, canning, baking or health.

During the county corn show committees from each of the twelve townships met with Miss Gaddis of Pershio and decided to promote a clothing project during the present year. The data for their first meeting has not been determined.

AMENDMENT DEAD ISSUE IN INDIANA

State Senate Votes Against Ratification After Sharp Debate, 32 to 16

CALLED CHILD OF SOCIALISM

Senator Lindley Says Amendment is Antagonistic to Principles of Free Government

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 6.—The question of ratification of the child labor amendment to the federal constitution is a dead issue in the Indiana legislature.

After a sharp debate between opponents and supporters of ratification, the senate Thursday afternoon voted 32 to 18 for rejection of the amendment and indefinitely postponed the motion to ratify.

The galleries and all available spaces in the senate chamber were jammed with spectators when the amendment was called up on order of special business.

The amendment was reported out by the senate federal relations committee without recommendation.

Almost immediately Senator Lindley of Kingham moved for indefinite postponement and rejection.

Senator Southworth moved to table Senator Lindley's motion and after a tilt over parliamentary rules, Senator Southworth withdrew his motion to leave the way open for debate.

Branding the amendment as "the legitimate child of socialism and communism," Senator Lindley declared it was antagonistic to the principles of free government on which the nation was founded.

He said it was time for the people to "cease yielding their rights" to a centralized control of authority.

In urging a favorable vote, Senator Southworth said children under 18 years of age would be permitted to work under the provisions of the amendment but to work in a way that would not be injurious to the future of the individual child.

The amendment is intended to throw safeguards around the future citizens of the nation," he said. "It contains nothing dangerous or radical."

Senator Batt, of Terre Haute, challenged Senator Southworth and asked him why he did not make a favorable report as chairman of the federal relations committee if he believed in the amendment.

Senator Southworth explained that a report without recommendation

TONIGHT JUST BEGINNING OF THE END; NOT THE END

Coming of the Crack of Doom Will Not be Sudden as Expected, Robert Reit Explains

CHRIST TO START FOR EARTH

By FRANK GETTY
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

East Patchogue, N. Y., Feb. 6.—Well, they have a nice day for it. Robert Reit and his disciples who confidently expect the end of the world—or at least the beginning of the end—sometime tonight had clear skies in which to observe the first portents.

Dressed in their Sunday best, the apostle with his trousers neatly creased and Franklin Reit in a crinkly silk dress, the little band of reformed Seventh Day Adventists moved somewhat stiffly about their last minute preparations for the coming of the crack of the doom.

Reit, a rotund little German-American, hoarse from exhortation and explanation of the plans of the faithful for riding to San Diego on cloud, explained that this end of the world business is not due to arrive suddenly at midnight, as had been rumored.

The prophet of doomsday said that tonight merely marks the beginning of the end of things.

With his followers, Reit will keep a dog watch on the eastern sky, to observe Christ starting for earth. The journey will take seven days, Reit explained, as the savior will stop at several planets to make arrangements for the return trip on which he will lead 144,000 of the "brides of the lamb."

TO HOLD CORN SHOW MEETING

All Persons Interested in Next Show Urged to Attend Wednesday

All persons interested in the success of the next Rush county corn show and those who took an active part in the recent show, are urged to attend a meeting which will be held in the court house assembly room next Wednesday afternoon at one o'clock.

An effort will be made to formulate plans at once for the next annual corn show, with the idea of improving on this year's show as much as possible.

The last show was regarded as the best county show in Indiana, but local boosters are hopeful of making the next one even a greater success.

SINK NEW SHAFT TO REACH CAVE PRISON

Rescuers Work Frantically But do Not Hope to Reach Floyd Collins Before Saturday Noon

FEAR DEATH BEFORE THEN

Shaft 60 Feet Deep Required But Depth of Only 30 Feet Will be Reached Before Night

(By United Press)

At the mouth of San Cave, Ky., Feb. 6.—Cheered by the belief that Floyd Collins is still living, rescuers hammered steadily into the new shaft they are sinking sixty feet to the point where Collins is entombed. Working frantically they can proceed no more than thirty feet before nightfall.

"We should break through to Collins by Saturday noon," Brigadier General Denhardt, officer in charge said. "But I doubt if he can live that long."

Confident now that they will reach the place where he is imprisoned, the workers' chief object now is to reach him before death comes.

Beginning late yesterday when Brig. General H. H. Denhardt took charge and 100 relief workers arrived, the crews had drilled 15 feet today toward the tomb where Collins has been a prisoner since a week ago today.

Radio tests early today gave workers assurance that Collins not only is alive, but conscious. After they had made the tests, Denhardt expressed renewed confidence that Collins would be taken out alive.

Shifts are made every hour and a half among the workmen to make quicker work possible.

Sixty-five of the workmen here are employees of the Louisville and Nashville railroad which has promised additional men through the day. The railway company also sent tools and machinery.

Radio tests which determined Collins was alive were made by means of the electric light which still burns in Collins' living tomb.

Radio amplifiers were attached to this wire and the light was cut off. Listeners distinctly heard Collins fumble with the light bulb in an effort to get the light on again. When it was turned on again these sounds ceased. Tysiers asserted there was absolutely no other possible source of the sounds.

Rescuers today were farther from saving Collins than when the prisoner was first found with his foot pinned beneath a boulder. The tunnel through which they reached him first has swollen shut with the frost.

The first man to enter this passageway at 4:30 a. m., yesterday almost was trapped and after his exit the cave mouth was barricaded.

A shaft is now being drilled through crumbled sand and stones and frozen gravel and engineers said it probably would not be necessary to blast. Use of explosive had been planned as a last resort if they struck hard rock. It would almost certainly mean collapse of the tunnel in which Collins lies and the victim's death.

RUSH COUNTY IS UNDER QUARANTINE

One of Nine Counties Prohibited From Shipping Poultry or Poultry Products

EUROPEAN FOWLPEST FOUND

Purdue Poultry Expert Said Here Last Week Disease Would be Harmful in Hatching Season

Quarantine in Effect

Dr. R. C. Julian, state veterinarian, notified H. D. VanMatre, county agent by long distance telephone at noon today that the poultry quarantine was in effect in Rush county and that no poultry was to be bought or sold until an inspection had been made.

Dr. Julian stated that men would be sent to Rush county within 48 hours to conduct the inspections and urged complete co-operation on the part of all concerned in order to stamp out the disease at the earliest possible moment.

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 6.—Nine counties in eastern Indiana were under quarantine today against the European fowlpest.

The quarantine, ordered last night by Dr. R. C. Julian, state veterinarian, prohibits the shipment of poultry or poultry products from the counties.

The order is effective in Fayette, Rush, Shelby, Hancock, Henry, Wayne, Randolph, Delaware and Madison counties.

Indiana's entire poultry industry, valued at nearly $60,000,000 a year, is menaced by the plague, according to Dr. G. I. Christie, of Purdue university.

The pest was first discovered in a shipment of poultry from Henry county to New York late last month. Its spread to other counties was rapid.

Whole flocks of chickens are killed off by the plague, which has all the devastating effect of the hoof and mouth disease among cattle.

H. D. Vanmatre, county agricultural agent, said today that he did not know of any instances in Rush county where poultry had suffered any ill effects from the European

APPROPRIATION PASSED IN LESS THAN HOUR'S TIME

Legislature Provides $50,000 to Fight European Fowlpest Affecting 9 Counties

AN OLD AGE PENSION BILL

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 6.—In less than an hour's time today, the legislature rushed through an emergency appropriation bill to provide $50,000 for fighting the European fowlpest in Indiana.

There was no opposition in the senate and only one negative vote in the house. The measure went to the governor immediately.

Representative Pittenger sponsored the bill in the house and Senator Moorehead backed it in the senate.

With the fund provided by the bill, the state veterinarian will immediately send a large force of field men into nine counties under quarantine in the eastern part of the state, to prevent the spread of the disease which if not checked will threaten the poultry industry throughout the state.

The old age pension bill providing a pension of $25 a month to old persons over 65 years of age, who have an income of less than $300 a year and property valued at less than $3,000, was introduced in the senate by Senator Nejdil of Whiting, republican floor leader.

The bill introduced by Senator Nejdil for the establishment of a county pension board to operate under the supervision of the state industrial board, would have charge of the administering of the act.

ELEVATED TO SUPREME COURT

HARLAN FISKE STONE

The nomination of Attorney General Stone to be a Supreme Court Justice was confirmed by the Senate late Thursday, 71 to 6.

Turns Attention to Warren

Washington, Feb. 6—With the nomination of Attorney General Stone to be a supreme court justice confirmed 71 to 6, the senate today turned its attention to the nomination of Charles B. Warren of Michigan, to be Stone's successor.

The judiciary committee which has not yet voted on it, will consider the appointment early next week. It will have before it a report of a sub-committee, headed by Senator Borah, Idaho, neither endorsing nor disapproving the nomination, an unusual procedure. A fight comparable to that waged on Stone is considered possible.

Several senators have been reviewing testimony taken ten years ago in a sugar lobby investigation, in which Warren figured and it is indicated the nomination may have rough going.

RUSHVILLE TEACHERS

Report Shows One Hundred Percent From Here in the National Education Association

OFFICERS SEND THEIR THANKS

(Special to the Daily Republican)

Washington, Feb. 6—One hundred percent of the teachers of the schools of Rushville, Indiana, are enrolled in the National Education Association, according to a report received today by Mr. J. W. Crabtree, secretary of the association, from H. B. Allman, superintendent of schools. In a letter to Mr. Allman, Mr. Crabtree says: "The officers of the association congratulate you and your fellow workers on this one hundred percent record of membership in the National Education Association. It is a fine showing and means that you appreciate the importance of an alert, well-trained, and responsible profession. You will soon receive the special certificates granted by the executive committee to schools which enroll all their teachers."

The National Education Association was organized in 1857. Through its efforts the United States Bureau of Education was established. It has led in the movement for well-trained, adequately paid, properly certified teachers for all schools. Among the organizations which have endorsed its platform of service are: The General Federation of Women's Clubs, the League of Women Voters, and the American Federation of Labor. Since the war the Association has been actively working for a Federal Department of Education with a Secretary in the President's cabinet.

ADDRESSES KIWANIANS

God Will Guide Thee—Be ye not as the horse, or as the mule, which have no understanding: whose mouth must be held in with bit and bridle. I will instruct thee and teach thee in the way which thou shalt go. Psalm 32:9-8.

Prayer:—O Spirit of the living God, we need thy guidance, for the way is strange to us. Keep us from self will. Make us teachable and then show us the way to walk.

A Social Fruit

Behold the lowly apple—it has put on airs and assumed a new and higher rung on the social ladder.

We have the word of the American Promological Society that an apple is a social fruit.

"It draws human beings together in fellowship," says a bulletin from the society.

For these many years we have understood that an apple a day keeps the doctor away, but we never suspected this luscious fruit had the reverse qualities.

Granted what is claimed for the apple is true—that it will keep the children at home and in at night, and husbands as well, few of us have ever quite pictured the apple as a social fruit.

Nothing tastes so good as a good apple, but the caterers never were able to find a suitable French term under which to disguise it, so it has never been permitted to grace the menus where price and not what you get to eat counts.

Hence, the apple has always been regarded as a social outcast.

The average person will be glad to learn that someone has championed the cause of the lowly apple, which has been hiding its light under a bushel, so to speak, for so many centuries.

The apple needs a champion; it has been taken too much for granted because it is so common.

There are few states that do not grow apples because apple trees will thrive in all temperate regions.

But folks are folks the world around and they never get over that human trait which causes them to believe the grass is always greener on the neighbor's lawn.

They take imported fruit when they have something just as good at their back door.

Social fruit, or unsocial—have it any way you like it—the apple is a great boon to humanity and will bear better acquaintance.

College Opportunities

Over 7 percent of the freshmen reporting in one State several years ago made their choice of college because of the opportunity afforded for self-support during the course. College authorities have long sought ways and means to assist deserving young men and women to obtain an education. A plan proposed by the State Normal College at Bowling Green, Ohio, has recently been reported to the Bureau of Education. Tentative arrangements subject to legislative approval provide part-time employment for a limited number of farm boys enrolling in the agriculture science course for rural high school.

The students alternate by periods of three weeks between the college and assigned farms. This procedure continues for four years, ten months per year. Two students are assigned for one year to the cooperating farmer so that one student is at the college all the time and one with the farmer all the time. The farmer pays a reasonable wage for this help. At the close of each year the students are assigned to farmers in other localities to give them the business methods and viewpoints of other farmers and communities.

The class work is correlated with the farm activities for each three weeks period. The farm thus serves as a practical laboratory for the course and at the same time aids the student to meet his college expenses. Five years are required to complete the course with a B. S. degree. The fifth year is spent in fulltime residence at the college doing practice teaching and college work.

Hunt's Washington Letter

BY HARRY R. HUNT

WASHINGTON—Matrons and dowagers of the capital social set are getting cross-eyed trying to look both north and south at the same time for the arrival of the stork with burdens for two of Washington's social favorites.

While Alice Longworth is awaiting the visitor at Chicago, Mrs. Cornelia Vanderbilt Cecil is awaiting a like call at the baronial Vanderbilt estate near Asheville, N. C.

Miss Vanderbilt's marriage to Hon. John F. A. Cecil, former first secretary of the British embassy, was the capital's gala nuptial event of a year ago.

With the polo season closed and interest in bridge and mah jong waning, many of the sportively inclined are placing wagers on which will arrive first, the Longworth heir or the Cecil heir.

WITH the banning by President Coolidge of an official inaugural ball, the days of glory for the old Pension Office building probably have gone forever.

For it was in the great inner court of this building that these festivities were staged. No other public building in Washington offered so spacious or imposing a setting.

The roof over this vast inner court is supported by a double rank of towering pillars, each 85 feet high and 20 feet in circumference.

ence. They appear to be of Italian marble, beautifully colored, handsomely veined. But—

These pillars are but early examples of what, during the war, came to be known as "cannon-flage." They aren't marble at all; only brick and plaster! Each pillar contains 55,000 bricks, all nicely plastered over and painted to deceive.

GRAY-HAIRED guards who have spent countless hours studying the lining of this imitation marble have found in it many freakish forms.

On one pillar can be made out a fairly accurate picture of George Washington.

On another the lines of the "marble" take on the form of an Indian warrior, bow drawn and arrow aimed.

On a third there seems to be a little red school house, with the Stars and Stripes floating from its flagpole. And a fourth, the G. A. R. attendants will point out to you, is a really marvelous imitation of a Grand Army badge, with the outstretched wings of the eagle so minutely drawn as to seem the result of careful work, not of accident.

But this most imposing interior in Washington is today less well known and less frequently visited than any other in the capital. For years it was kept in the public eye by the quadrennial inaugural ball. But the last official ball was 16 years ago.

Only in its memories does it have the power to thrill and stimulate.

ECHOES FROM THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 6.—Senator Holmes of Gary holds the record in the upper house for introduction of bills.

He has sponsored sixteen measures and is the co-author of a seventeenth.

Senator English, Indianapolis, is a close second with thirteen bills to his credit.

Senators Cravens, Democratic floor leader, Bransman, Davis, Ermi, Harmon, Lutz, Martin, Merry, Nejdil and Saunders have not introduced a bill.

Senator Saunders, however, is co-author with Senator Penrod on one measure and Senator Chambers sponsored one bill jointly, with Senator Inman.

Hoosier "salts" would be given a chance to try their "sea legs" under a bill now before the house.

The bill calls for the establishment of an Indiana naval militia with a recruited strength of not more than 1,000 men.

The governor would be authorized to accept a vessel from the federal government for the militia to take an annual two-weeks cruise.

The measure was introduced jointly by Representatives Murden, Carlisle, Korff, Cooper, Harris, Plass and Kissinger.

The limit of bonded indebtedness on all free gravel roads in each county in the state would be increased from two to four percent of the assessed valuation in the county under a bill introduced in the senate by Senator O'Rourke, of Fort Wayne, today.

The bill would amend the act passed by the 1923 legislature which fixed the two cent limit.

The bill is expected to draw fire if it reaches the floor of the senate from advocates of economy in the local government who declare that taxes are too high and such a bill would only permit the increase.

Another "Blue Sunday" bill is pending in the state legislature today.

It is being considered by the senate morals committee to which it was referred following its introduction by Senator Leonard, of Warsaw.

The bill resurrects the ancient Indiana "blue law" which has never been enforced and would attach stricter penalties for its violation.

The bill provides a $10 to $25 fine for first violation, and $25 to $100 fine for second violation of its provisions. It differs from the old law in that it contains a nuisance clause with a $100 to $1000 fine for violation.

Among the offenses which the law seeks to prohibit are rioting, quarrelling, common labor, or the following of a person's avocation, works of charity accepted.

Indianapolis is dirtier than Gary, according to Senator Hodges, of the Calumet industrial city.

"I thought Gary was very dirty and smoky when the big steel mills are running full blast," he said. "But Indianapolis is a lot worse."

"And from what I have seen about the hotels, I think it is just as bad morally."

IN HARD LINES

"I could not work at all and had to take to my bed with a high fever due to intestinal indigestion, gases in my stomach and pain in my right side. I had spent my last cent for doctors and medicine, which gave me no relief. I was in despair. A lodge brother gave me a bottle of Marx's Wonderful Remedy, and the first dose relieved me. Thanks to this medicine I am now in the best of health." It is a simple harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale by druggists everywhere. —Advertisement

COUNTY GAMES TONIGHT

In the county tonight, New Salem plays at Webb; Manilla at Carthage and Raleigh plays Moscow at Blue Ridge. Saturday night Carthage tackles Arlington at Arlington.

Spiceland may be easy, but you never can tell. The "Yellow Jackets" always put up a strong fight on their own floor, and may cause some trouble for the Lions—but under ordinary circumstances the locals should pull through easily.

May Be the Last Game For Rushville

According to newspaper dispatches, a certain religious sect has received advance word through visions, that the world is to come to an end sometime before midnight today. So our time is getting plenty short. There is some consolation in the vision, and that is that we all have a chance of being one of the 144,000 that are to be saved.

WONDER WHERE HE GETS THIS "WE" STUFF

Have you stopped to figure out that it's less than seven weeks until we'll be celebrating the 1925 state championships? —What the Stars Say, Frankfort.

The above statement is about as accurate as his next one, which says, "And less than five weeks until we'll be talking about the 52 sectional champions?" Bothie ought to read up on these sectionals, as basketball in Indiana isn't what it used to be, and there are 54 sectionals.

Anyway "we" haven't given up that trip to Niagara Falls, which is being given by a man up in Frankfort.

A FINANCIAL STATEMENT

The teams in the district tourney over at Connersville will get about $100 apiece, according to the financial statement sent out today. The following from Side Lights of Connersville, is a detailed account:

THAT DISTRICT TOURNEY

Here's the black and white on that district tourney, supplementing an earlier report on the approximate receipts. The following signed by Harry D. Miller, treasurer and B. E. Myers principal, will be of interest:

Referees	$110.00
Cup	24.92
Hotels and meals	145.60
Services	86.40
Transportation	134.06
Printing, advertising, tele	42.05
phones	11.75
Basket ball	100.00
Center school	100.00
Balance, divided among 7 schools	917.26
Total	1,598.50

They surely got cheated on that mrg. The one that was given in the Rush county tourney, here last week, only cost $15.96, and they paid $24.42 for the cup at Connersville. Probably held that extra ounce which Mitty wanted.

It Would Be Sweet!

Tonight is the night of all nights in southwestern Indiana. Washington travels on a special train to Vincennes, Washington, like a great many other Indiana teams, has a record of 15 straight games. Will Alice be sweet sixteen tonight?

We Hope You Are Right

Speaking of Rushville—the Lions play at Spiceland Friday night. According to dope, it'll be the eighth defeat for the Spiceland crew. They've won only one game this season. —Side Lights, Cville.

So far, Free Throws in the Press at Connersville hasn't made his prediction on the game tonight, and we're mighty glad of it. Every time he has picked Rushville to win a game, they have always turned around and done the opposite. It would be just like him to pick Rushville to beat Connersville, and could you imagine that?

Pass and Shoot on the Greenacres Banner is always reading Hittin' 'em, and he goes just on after the last item, reading medicine ads and all of the little "fillers." Maybe he don't know that advertisers fight for space on this page. Just last week Casagarets wrote in and wanted the make-up man to put their ad on Mr. Hittin' 'em's page, but we couldn't accommodate 'em that week, and pushed it over to the society page.

Reading right on at the end of Pass and Shoot's column today, comes the headline, "Clinton Falls", and there wasn't a word about anybody falling. That's getting money under false pretense.

Greencastle still has the brick. They play at Lafayette tonight, and Hittin' 'em was just wondering if anyone thought to take the brick along.

Let's see, someone said it would be a terrible thing for that brick if Passaic ever got their hands on it.

LOOKIN' TO FEB. 13

By the way don't want to rush things but it won't be long before we can begin to start getting the ole pep for that "Battle of the Century" here February 13. Our guess is that he gym will be packed to the guards who plays? Why them roarin' Lions of Reshville and we're gonna tame 'em or know the reason why.—Side Lights, Cville.

"GUILT TO" IS RIGHT

The Rushville Roarin' Lions ought to get back in the winning column, this Friday evening when they take on the Spiceland "Yellowjackets" on Henry county lumber. The Lions have been losing quite a number while the Spicelanders got back on the winning side last week. We're pickin' the Lions by twenty points. —Newcastle Courier

And Newcastle meets their old time rivals down at Knightstown tonight. These games usually are hot ones and both teams will know they have been some place when the smoke is cleared away.

This little sign worked good before, and we will see how it looks now. It is next on the program:

NIK THOSE IKMIKS

Cut World Series Ticket Price!

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Feb. 6.—Baseball officials have some of the strangest ways of solving their problems. They seem to figure that a puff of breath will extinguish a conflagration just because it will put out a match.

The wierdest idea ever conceived by supposedly big men of business was originated to remove the danger that has been brought to the game by million-dollar world's series.

The magnates have decided to reduce the money shares of the pennant-winning teams in the receipts of the world's series games by declaring the two teams that finish in fourth position in for a share of the spoils.

They also have decided to raise the pay of the four umpires who officiate in the series to $2,500 each.

The danger of having the players tampered with or tempted by bribes, they figure, is removed by reducing the reward of the players without taking a penny out of their own pockets.

Ball players in general have no high regard for their employers as philanthropists or big-hearted brothers. If some of the White Sox players who went astray in 1919 had not felt that they were under no obligations to their boss, there might not have been a big scandal.

It was brought out in the testimony that some of the star Chicago players were the lowest paid in the league and when the club owners were raking in all the coin, they had no moral compunctions against throwing games to fatten their own rolls.

Then there was the case of Rube Marquard who was arrested in Cleveland during the world's series of 1920 on the complaint of Charles Ebbets that he was trying to sell some of the tickets that he had been allowed to purchase. If the fans are curious to find out how so many of the best tickets for world's series games reach the hands of speculators it is quite certain that the players have their own doubts.

Since that scandal in 1919, it has been agreed that commercialization of the world's series was baseball's greatest danger. Why?

Well, when the receipts of the series run into the million dollar class, the share of the individual players on the winning teams runs as high as from $5,000 to $7,000 each. Naturally every player wants to get in on that bonus, which in itself represents more than a fair annual salary for a well paid man. When several teams get into a tight race there is the temptation to buy games. It was the general opinion that Jimmy O'Connell was sent with a $500 bribe to a Philadelphia player to help the Giants win the decisive game of the pennant race.

To prevent a repetition of the same thing in the future, the baseball officials decided to remove the temptation by reducing the share of the players taking part in the series. They figured probably that players in the future would not try to buy a pennant if they were to get only $2,500 each for taking part in the series.

If the danger to the future of the games depends upon the removal of commercialism from the world's series, there is only one way to do it.

SOUR STOMACH RELIEVED BY DI-JO TABLETS

If you're suffering from gas on the stomach, bloating, sour stomach, heartburn, or any of the inconveniences of indigestion, take Di-Jo.

It's not only pleasant to take but it aids the stomach in performing its duties. Any disturbance of the stomach throws the whole system out of order. If your food is not digesting properly it cannot furnish sufficient nourishment to the body.

The stomach is the furnace which consumes the fuel which enters your body. Sometimes the fuel is the wrong kind and sometimes there is too much of it. Di-Jo is the proper corrective for such a condition. It gives the gastric juices which are supposed to help digest your food the strength needed to digest food for a stomach temporarily weakened or for an overloaded stomach.

Di-Jo isn't dope or anything that can possibly hurt you. It's a natural remedy to aid digestion and it should be in every household. Your druggist has it.

If you are troubled with constipation take DI-VAC. It is sold by all druggists and is recommended as the proper laxative to be used in connection with Di-Jo, if any is needed. —Advertisement

Dr. and Mrs. John M. Lee and family will be guests of Dr. and Mrs. H. A. VanOsdel in Indianapolis at a family dinner Sunday. Mrs. E. A. Lee of this city, who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. VanOsdel, will also be a guest.

Mrs. Grant Gregg was a delightful hostess Wednesday afternoon when she entertained the Wednesday Afternoon Sewing Club at her home in East Sixth street. The pleasant afternoon was closed with a delicious course luncheon. Nine members and five guests were present.

Mrs. George Witse and her mother, Mrs. Etta Sellers, entertained the members of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the St. Paul's M. E. church Thursday at noon at their home in West Fifth street. The program opened with the devotionals conducted by Miss Eva Ball and Mrs. V. C. Bodine reviewed the lesson. A most pleasant social hour was enjoyed by the guests after the program, during which the hostess served refreshments.

The Presbyterian and Literary Club members were graciously entertained Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Jesse Rees near Gings. The majority of the members were present and they responded to the roll call with sayings from Lincoln. A paper on "The Life of Lincoln" was read by Mrs. Donald Foster and "The Perfect Tribute" was given by Mrs. Horace Kehl. One guest, Mrs. O. H. Rees, was present for the meeting. A delicious two course luncheon was served as the concluding feature of the meeting. Miss Meriam Fry will be hostess to the club, Friday afternoon, February 19.

Seventy-five members and guests attended the meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the St. Paul's M. E. church, held Thursday afternoon in the parlors of the church. E. A. Frazee conducted the Bible study and Mrs. Martha Grindle gave a splendid talk on "China," using the blackboard for explanations. Mrs. L. C. Overdorf reviewed two books on China. A very interesting letter was read at the meeting from Mrs. Cyrus Yocum, who is with her husband in Boleangi, Africa. The Rev. and Mrs. Yocum were formerly of this city, the former being pastor of the church here, and he is now making a survey of the African mission field. The letter was sent to Mrs. Warder Wyatt. Little Miss Eleanor Stiers favored the audience with two piano solos. The February section, captained by Mrs. H. V. Logan, served light refreshments following the program.

AMENDMENT DEAD ISSUE IN INDIANA

(Continued from Page One) tion is equivalent to favorable committee action. "That's just passing the buck," Senator Batt retorted. "This is not a child labor amendment. Boys and girls are grown at eighteen. Boys under eighteen fought for their country in the world war and now congress says they are not to be allowed to work." Senator Nejdil, Republican floor leader, said the laboring man who is forced to depend on the earnings of his older children to keep the family going was not in favor of the amendment. He said he thought the age limit had been set at eighteen with the deliberate purpose of defeating the amendment.

FLOWERS GUILTY. IS JURY'S VERDICT

(Continued from Page One) turned a few minutes later with a shot gun, fired two shots, one of which killed his wife. The gun, an "old timer" was introduced by the state as evidence.
"We were looking for whisky," Fred Misener, testified upon taking the stand. He verified the fact of the three white men coming to Muncie from Richmond, on the fatal Sunday in company with Mrs. Flowers and Theodore McGahey, colored, the latter being the driver of the car. The men slept most of the way, according to Misener, but came to Muncie after Mrs. Flowers had told them she thought they might get some liquor there.
A touch of humor was added to the case and brought a ripple of laughter from the crowded court room when Misener told of his actions when the first shot was fired.
"I didn't have time to count no shots," he told Prosecutor Van L. Ogle upon being questioned as to the number of shots.
"I jumped up when the first shot was fired and fairly leaped into an adjoining bed room. The only thing I could see to stop bullets was a bed mattress and I made a dive under it. A man thinks pretty quick under such circumstances," Misener said.
Misener said he returned to the living room to find Guy Reynolds when he saw him peeping out from behind a chair. He called to him and when the second shot was fired they both made a dive for under the bed.

Spring Coat

THIS spring coat follows the prevalent mode of much fur at the hem and very little at the collar. Instead of fur about the throat there is a wide scarf of the material which crosses in front with the ends falling over the shoulder. The tucks at the back give an exceptionally good shoulder line and mark it as one of the most advanced models.

Leroy Jones, poultry expert from Purdue, said at the Rush county poultry school here last week, that the quarantine scare of a few weeks ago in the east would do unequaled harm to the poultry business. And not realizing that a quarantine was probable in this part of the state, he asserted that if the disease should reappear, it would be much more harmful now because of coming right at the hatching season.

MANNING ARRESTED FOR DRAWING GUN

(Continued from Page One) this morning, after giving $1,000 bond for his appearance in police court, probably early next week. The charges as filed by Sleeth, charge him with drawing a revolver on him and with carrying a deadly weapon. According to the officers, Manning attempted to force his way into the Sleeth home and drew the gun on Sleeth but Mrs. Sleeth intervened and persuaded Manning to hand the weapon over. Sleeth called the police who later arrested him at his home. According to the officers, Sleeth is employed at nights, but remained at home last night when his wife told him that Manning was going to call.

The deceased is survived by his widow, and a brother, Will B. Morris of Union township, and a sister, Mrs. Emma Smith of Rushville. Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at two o'clock at the late residence in Union township, and burial will be made in East Hill cemetery. He was a member of the Ben Davis Creek Christian church.

CHILD BADLY SCALDED MOTHER QUICKLY STOPS PAIN
A daughter of Mrs. G. Reynolds of Saugerties, N. Y., had the misfortune of being badly scalded. Fortunately the mother had CORONA Wool Fat in the house and applied it with the following satisfactory results: "My daughter badly scalded her arm with hot coffee. We applied CORONA and healed it quickly. There is nothing that can compare with CORONA Ointment for quickly soothing pain and healing scalds, burns, bruises, cuts and wounds of all kinds. Children like it because it is so soothing—relieves pain so quickly. Its remarkable healing properties have earned for it the name of 'The World's Greatest Healing Ointment.' As a household remedy it is indeed 'a friend in need.' At all druggists, 60c. Corona Mfg. Co., Kenton, Ohio."

"Thy Name is Woman," Princess
With a highly-charged story of passionate love, a background of great scenic beauty, played by a cast of stars and made by one of the industry's cleverest directors, "Thy Name is Woman," the new Metro picture which comes to the Princess theatre for two days, beginning today promises to be one of the most thrilling productions of the year.

The cast includes such favorites as Ramon Novarro, Barbara La Marr, Edith Roberts, William V. Mong, Wallace MacDonald, Robert Edeson and Claire McDowell.

The story is centered around the beautiful young wife of an old smuggler in the Spanish Pyrenees. A dashing young soldier is sent to make love to her and thus find the key that will lead to the capture of the crafty bandit.

The call of youth prevails and the officer and the wife actually fall in love, causing jealousy in the hearts of three other characters. The development from this premise forms an absorbing tale of revenge, thrilling action, and final solution, that is said to keep spectators pop-eyed with excitement.

"The Lure of the Yukon"
One is used to looking at a society picture and considering the gowns costly. Did you ever realize that the collection of costly furs in a snow picture far out-value tinsel and stage jewelry.

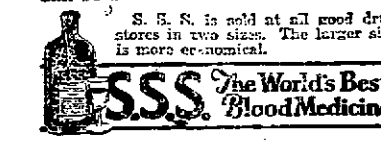

For instance, in Norman Dawn's genuine Alaskan drama, "The Lure of the Yukon," over $2,000,000.00

ANY WOMAN, any man, can now have a well-developed face and form. The whole, simple secret of a well-developed form is in the number of blood-cells in your body. You can now forget all the theoretical talk about diet, exercise, fat treatments, food-fats and fat-foods. Nothing is of any use, after all, except blood-cells!

Thin, run-down men and women, with bony necks, sunken cheeks, bony shoulders—all these are suffering from one thing—too few blood-cells. Science has proved that S.S.S. helps to make the rich red blood-cells, which you need. Your blood is starving for these new blood-cells! Give your blood the blood-cells it needs—take S.S.S. the great scientific blood-maker. S.S.S. has done marvels, too, in making beautiful complexions, clearing the skin, making lips rosy red, the cheeks full and plump—because it rid the blood of impurities which cause pimples, blackheads, acne, blotches, eczema, tetter, rash and rheumatism, too. As the medicinal ingredients of S.S.S. are purely vegetable, it may be taken with perfect safety. This is why S.S.S., since 1826, has meant to thousands of underweight men and women a plus in their strength. Start taking S.S.S. today and your great problem, that of your personal appearance, can be solved.

Harry Carey at Mystic
The second Hunt-Stromberg production, starring Harry Carey, is playing at the Mystic theatre. The story is about the Black Mask, a bandit who is the terror of the country. A deputy sheriff who appears to be too lazy and timid to hunt a bird, is disguising as the bandit and riding at night in order to trap the criminal's accomplices and find out who he is. The father of the girl he loves is murdered and his Black Mask costume implicates him. There are some very exciting situations before everything is cleared up.
